About

Tomal is an aspiring software engineer; his tech journey began after browsing a job website where he repeatedly came across keywords such as HTML, CSS & JavaScript.

Curiosity played a role in Tomal's investigation that led him to the FreeCodeCamp website; for several months he dedicated time into studying the syllabus which spiralled into an obsession.

Tomal has now come to the conclusion that knowing how to learn, adapting to an ever changing environment and building relationships with people are the biggest skill in his arsenal.
